MACKEREL STILL SCARCE.

But Few Arrivals at Fulton Market Today.

The Fish Are Selling at 25 Cents Each.

Fresh mackerel are in slow receipt at Fulton market, New York. Last year at this time, big fares were being brought in, but the trips today show that the fleet are finding fish in small schools and that the fish are wild and scarce. The arrivals this morning are as follows:

The price today for fresh mackerel is 25 cents each.

Yesterday afternoon the netters Princess, with 100 fresh mackerel, and Hockomock, with 300 fresh mackerel, arrived, this being the second trip for the latter.

The trip of 5000 fresh mackerel which sch. Pinta, Capt. John F. Vautier, landed at Fulton Market yesterday afternoon, as reported in yesterday's TIMES, was one of the largest of the season thus far.

FISHING SCHOONER LOST.

Florida Craft Sunk in a Tornado and Her Crew of Six Drowned.

A despatch from Pensacola, Fla., says: Fishing vessels report that the fishing schooner Florida was lost in a hurricane near Campeche banks about 10 days ago, and that the entire crew of six men went down with the vessel. She had about concluded her fishing when a hurricane came on about 10 o'clock at night.

There were 12 or more vessels anchored near together and each parted its cable and went adrift. Some of the fishermen of other vessels saw a big sea strike the Florida. Her lights swayed and then she went down.

Herring have struck into Casco bay in great numbers and although but few are aware of it those who are fishing are getting great catches. The greatest catches are being made north and south of Long Island. None of the steamers are out yet but they will probably begin fishing before long. It is also expected that the Boothbay fleet which fishes all the year round, will soon arrive at Portland to take advantage of the big schools of fish in these waters. It is also reported that some bait is being taken at Harpswell in the traps and pounds. The catch in the vicinity of Long Island has been averaging about two bushels to the net a night which is considered good fishing. ## SEINER

RUN INTO.

Big Four-Master Struck Sch. Annie Greenlaw.

DURING DENSE FOG AT NIGHT

Latter Lost Mainmast and Starboard Rigging.

A special to the TIMES this forenoon states that sch. Annie Greenlaw, Capt. M. D. McKinnon, of this port arrived at Fulton Market at 11 o'clock today in a disabled condition.

Capt. McKinnon reported to the TIMES correspondent that on the night of May 6 during a very thick fog, when the Greenlaw was on the mackerel fishing ground off Barnegat, she was run into by a big four-masted coaster.

The coaster's spanker boom came in contact with the Greenlaw's main rigging, carrying it away on the starboard side, and also carried away the mainmast about four feet above the crossrees. Fortunately no one on board the Greenlaw was injured.

BIG STOCK.

Sch. Kineo Gets Over $3200 on Georges Halibut Trip.

Sch. Kineo, Capt. John Stream, stocked $3212 as the result of her recent Georges halibut trip, the crew sharing $87.86 clear, the gross share being $96.45. The vessel had 20,000 pounds of fresh halibut and 58,000 pounds of fresh and salt fish. Owing to having two baitings and two fit outs the share was naturally less than it would have been with the ordinary expense of one baiting and one fit out.

The stock is one of the largest ever made in the Georges halibut fishery and is in keeping with Capt. Stream's usual big work. It has got so that everybody expects a big fare of this popular skipper every time he comes in and it is very seldom that they are disappointed.
